

Job Title: International Training Director

Job Duties: (Southern Pines, NC) Utilize working knowledge of business requirements under United States International Traffic in Arms Regulations ("ITAR") to design, develop and instruct world-class training services for military, government, and law enforcement personnel, including lead climbing, combat survival, mobility, turnkey exercise support, close quarters combat, close quarter fighting, marksmanship, operational preparation of the environment, active shooter response trainings, military and civilian freefall operations, Mountain Warfare operations and Alpine skiing, operational planning and leadership, as well as foreign and domestic counter terrorism training. Map out training plans, schedules and proposal development for GRA Maven's Catalogue of Services courses for international clients. Analyze clients' training needs and current programs to modify and improve existing programs and develop new training programs. Participate in selection of instructors and oversee instructor training, including teaching training methods and skills. Create and manage training program budgets. Evaluate the effectiveness of training programs and instructors and update training programs to ensure they are relevant. Assist with Business Development for future international clients and facilitate customized exercises to support international client training priorities.

Experience Requirements: Minimum of five years of experience developing military training programs, Top Secret (Positive Vetting) security clearance and ITAR Basic and Advanced Certificates required.

Applicants: Please apply by email to GRA Maven LLC at info@gramaven.com.